

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Kathryn Bickford. I have become aware that the FCC wants to make changes in the way KLOVE radio broadcasts. The proposals made by the FCC are against our constitutional right of free speech. K-Love radio is funded by their listeners and not funded by advertisers. Therefore, American people are the ones paying to have the radio station on the air. In essence, if the FCC wants to make changes to the way K-Love broadcasts, it's hindering what the people want.

It's not right that there be a community advisory for these stations. We cannot put the broadcasting into the hands of a few people who get to decide what airs and what doesn't.

I strongly oppose this proposition. K-Love radio doesn't use expletives of any other form of vulgarity. There's no reason to censor K-Love. The only reason why the FCC wants to do this is to impede on Christianity and the values believers have.

Sincerely,
Kathryn Bickford
